

AMALA VOLUNTEER APPLICATION

AMALA Hopeline Mission

The Hopeline provides access to culturally competent peer counselors who keep all conversations and information confidential. Counselors also provide local resource referrals for other services to Muslim youth.

Position Descriptions

This application is for individuals that would like to help with AMALA in the areas of marketing, database building, or team management. If you are interested in peer counseling, please use our Peer Counselor Application.

Marketing: Volunteers can assist in spreading the word about AMALA services, campaigns, giveaways, etc. We are looking for creative individuals that can help with videography, graphic design, networking, and/or social media management.

Skills/Experience Required/Preferred: Videography, graphic design, strong networking skills, communication skills, marketing campaign experience.

Database Building/Research: This role will initially focus on building a database of resources for counselors to use when they make referrals. This will involve seeking out resources, obtaining information on services provided by those resources, calling these services and educating them about AMALA, and organizing the information. Once a well-established database is developed, this team will also focus on Hopeline evaluations, research on mental health and the needs of the community.

Skills/Experience Required: Detail-oriented, strong research and analytical skills, well-organized, computer proficient.

Position Qualifications

1. Must be able to dedicate four hours of work a week for a minimum of a year.
2. The individual should have an interest in mental health, and a general idea of which mental health issues exist in the Muslim youth community.
3. The individual should have skills and experience conducive to the position they are applying for.
